

Paneer Fingers

Ingredients (400 g Paneer)

Main

- Paneer – 400 g
- Cut into finger-shaped pieces (about 1 cm thick)

Marinade

- Thick curd (hung curd preferred) – 4 tbsp
- Garlic – 10 cloves (crushed or finely grated)
- Ginger – 1½ inch piece (grated)
- Kashmiri red chili powder – 1½ tsp
- Black pepper powder – 1 tsp
- Turmeric powder – ¼ tsp
- Garam masala – ¾ tsp
- Coriander powder – 1 tsp
- Salt – 1 tsp
- Lemon juice – 1½ tbsp
- Ghee or olive oil – 1 tbsp

For Finishing

- Black pepper – ½ tsp
 - Lemon juice – 1 tbsp
 - Fresh coriander leaves – 2 tbsp chopped

Step 1: Cut the Paneer

Cut 400 g paneer into finger-shaped strips:

- Length: about 5–6 cm
- Thickness: about 1 cm

This should give around 20–24 paneer fingers.

Step 2: Make the Marinade

In a large bowl, add:

- 4 tbsp thick curd
- 10 crushed garlic cloves
- 1½ inch grated ginger
- 1½ tsp Kashmiri chili powder
- 1 tsp black pepper
- ¼ tsp turmeric
- ¾ tsp garam masala
- 1 tsp coriander powder
- 1 tsp salt
- 1½ tbsp lemon juice
- 1 tbsp ghee or olive oil

Mix thoroughly until smooth.

Step 3: Marinate the Paneer

1. Add paneer fingers to the marinade.
2. Coat every piece evenly.
3. Cover and refrigerate for 30–60 minutes.

The longer it marinates, the better the flavor.

Step 4: Cook the Paneer

1. Heat a non-stick pan on medium flame.
2. Add 1 tsp ghee if needed.
3. Place the paneer fingers in a single layer.
4. Cook for 2–3 minutes on one side.
5. Turn gently and cook another 2–3 minutes.

You want light golden spots, not dark brown.

Step 5: Final Toss

1. Sprinkle:
 - ½ tsp black pepper

- 1 tbsp lemon juice
 - 2 tbsp chopped coriander
2. Toss gently for 30 seconds.

Result

You get:

- Soft, juicy paneer inside
- Garlic-rich flavor
- Slightly crispy exterior
- High-protein snack
- No breadcrumbs
- No corn flour
- Much healthier than restaurant-style paneer fingers

These pair well with mint chutney, salad, or even rolled inside a chapati. 😊🍽️
